What are the qualifications for serving on a City Board or Commission?

According to State Statutes and City ordinances adopted by the City Board of Directors:

The following criteria should generally be considered in making appointments. However, because of differences in the boards and commissions, the relative importance assigned to the various criteria will vary with different appointments. Besides the general criteria below, special consideration (such as being a member of a particular profession) may be important for some appointments.

1. Expertise and experience in the subject matter is preferred, but not mandatory.
2. Interest in the subject matter. Attendance at prior meetings of the board or commission is preferred. (You may contact the Administration office for times, dates, and location of board and commission meetings.)
3. Balance of appointive body in terms of personal background, experience, perspective and representation.
4. Individual's ability to attend meetings of the appointive body.
5. To be eligible to serve on a city board or commission, you must be a qualified elector residing within the city limits, except that for the Planning Commission/Board of Adjustment a member may be a qualified elector residing within the City's planning district.
6. Absences from three (3) consecutive meetings or from 50% of the regular meetings within any 12 consecutive months may be a basis for termination of membership.
